PROSPECTUS.

THE Institution known as Creighton College was erected in 1877, in accordance with the will of the late Mrs. Mary L. Creighton, as a memorial of her late husband, Edward Creighton, after whom it is named. It was incorporated by an act of the Legislature of the State of Nebraska, February 27th, 1879, with power "to confer such degrees as are usually conferred by Colleges and Universities in the United States;" and in the same year it was entrusted by the Right Rev. Bishop James O'Connor, D. D., to the Fathers of the Society of Jesus, by whom it is conducted.

The College is intended for day scholars only. The Collegiate year is divided into two terms; the first term beginning on the first Monday in September, the second term, on February first. At the close of each term the several classes are subjected to a thorough examination. Every month the degrees of merit obtained by the students in their different classes are publicly proclaimed, and honors are awarded to such as have been most distinguished for good conduct, diligence and proficiency.

The course of studies embraces the Doctrines and Evidences of the Catholic Religion, Logic, Metaphysics, Ethics, Astronomy, Mathematics, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Rhetoric, Poetry, Original Composition, Elocution, History, Geography, Book Keeping, Arithmetic, Penmanship, the Latin, English and German Languages; Vocal and Instrumental Music, thus affording every facility for the acquirement of a thorough collegiate, scientific and practical education. All who complete the Collegiate Course, will, after a satisfactory examination, receive a certificate. Subsequently, the degree of S. B. can be obtained by devoting one or two years more to the study of the higher branches.

When a student presents himself for admission, he is examined by the Prefect of Studies, and placed in the class for which his previous attainments have qualified him. If he comes from another Institution, he is required to bring satisfactory testimonials.

Parents are regularly informed of the non-attendance of their sons, who, in case of absence, are invariably required to bring a note of excuse to the Prefect of Studies. In order that the lessons may be properly prepared, parents are requested to see that their sons study regularly at home every day.

Frequent absence, except in case of sickness, is sufficient cause for suspension. When students are to be withdrawn from the College, due notice should be given to the President or Vice-President. Any serious violation of the discipline of the College regarding good conduct, application, or docility, renders the offender liable to effective correction or even to dismissal, should the faculty deem it necessary. The College is open every morning at 8 o'clock. The regular exercises of class begin at 9 A. M., and close at 4 P. M.

Thursday is the weekly recreation day. The Professors and the majority of the students are members of the Catholic Church, yet students of every denomination are admitted, and their religious convictions are respected.

There is no charge for tuition.

Vocal Music is taught and forms no extra charge.

The College Library already numbers 4,400 volumes, of which a select Library of nearly 600 volumes is set apart for the use of the students, all of whom can enjoy the privileges of membership.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

Although the College is fully prepared to give a thorough education in the Classical Course and in the higher departments of science, yet, as experience has taught the faculty that parents do not leave their sons long enough at College to be fully educated in the more advanced studies, we have endeavored to accomodate ourselves to the present wants of the public, and have selected a course of instruction, which, completed in four years, will fit the student for a practical business life, whether in literary or scientific pursuits. We shall however hold ourselves ready to advance the standard, whenever a sufficient number of students, fit for still higher studies, will present themselves.

FIRST YEAR.

Latin—Brook's Epitome Historiæ Sacræ.
English—Murray's Grammar and Exercises, Fifth Reader, Speller, Object Lessons, Declamation.
History—Goodrich's History of the United States.
Geography—Eclectic Series, No. 2.
Arithmetic—Ray's Practical.
Penmanship—Spencerian System.
Christian Doctrine—Butler's Catechism, with explanations.

SECOND YEAR.

Latin—Yenni's Latin Grammar, Arnold's Prose Composition, Viri Romæ, Exercises.
English—Murray's Grammar and Exercises, concluded; Original Composition, Sixth Reader, Declamation.
History—Fredet's Modern.
Geography—Eclectic Series, No. 2.
Arithmetic—Ray's Practical, concluded.
Book Keeping—Mayhew's Single Entry.
Penmanship—Spencerian System.
Christian Doctrine—Butler's Catechism, with explanations.

THIRD YEAR.

Latin—Yenni's Latin Grammar, Arnold's Prose Composition, Cæsar.
English—Hart's Rhetoric, Original Composition, Elocution.
History—Fredet's Ancient.
Mathematics—Loomis' Algebra.
Book Keeping—Mayhew's Double Entry.
Physics—Rolfe and Gillet, Primary Properties of Matter, Electricity and Magnetism.
Chemistry—Inorganic, Rolfe and Gillet, Laboratory practice.
Christian Doctrine—Perry's Instructions, with explanations by the Professor.

FOURTH YEAR.

Latin—Arnold's Latin Prose, on Idioms of the Latin Language. Cicero, Virgil.
Logic—General Principles of Metaphysics and Ethics.
English—Hart's Rhetoric, concluded; Original Essays and Debates.
Mathematics—Plane Geometry, Plane Trigonometry, Surveying.
Astronomy—Application of Trigonometry, Observations
Physics—Mechanics of Solids, Liquids and Gases; Outlines of Optics and Acoustics.
Chemistry—Organic, Labaratory practice.
Christian Doctrine—Perry's Instructions, with explanations by the Professor.

Students who are not sufficiently advanced to enter into the regular course, are admitted to the class of Rudiments, provided they are fit for the Fourth Reader and know the four rules in Arithmetic.

CLASS OF RUDIMENTS.

English—Murray's Small Grammar, Fourth Reader, Speller, Object Lessons.
History—Gilmore's Bible History.
Geography—Small Geography, Eclectic Series.
Arithmetic—Ray's Practical.
Penmanship—Spencerian System.
Christian Doctrine—Butler's Small Catechism.

The study of German is optional. If a sufficient number of students present themselves for it, an extra class will be opened, so as not to interfere with the classes of the regular course.

Scientific Department

OF

CREIGHTON COLLEGE.

The president and faculty of Creighton College owe a lasting debt of gratitude to their generous benefactor, Mr. John A. Creighton, who, during the past collegiate year, has supplied the College with a complete and perfect, chemical, physical, and astronomical outfit. He has thereby done great service to the growing and prosperous City of Omaha, placing within the reach of its people a thorough and yet practical education in the scientific pursuits of our day. His donations embrace:

1. A highly finished Equatorial Telescope of 6 inches aperture, with five astronomical eye pieces from 100 to 300, one day power two solar prisms. The driving clock is of improved form and regulates the motion most correctly.
2. A Chronometer of most accurate construction, running 56 hours.
3. A seven inch Transit Theodolite of the very highest finish, vertical and horizontal circles divided on silver, two verniers to each circle, reading to 10 seconds, micrometer wires arranged with illuminating lamp for night work.
4. Malden's Triple Lantern, with the Chadwick Steward dissolving system—the first one of the kind in this country. It has no superior for dissolving views and mechanical effects.
5. Steward's Improved Lantern Microscope, with double spring stage and three extra powers.
6. A very large Oxy-hydrogen Polariscope, with large nicol prism, crystal stage and extra fittings.
7. Patent Aphengescope for pair of lanterns.
8. Patent Lantern Kaleisdoscope.
9. A full set of Slides for the Lantern, Microscope and Polariscope.
10. A magnificent Binocular Microscope, with the highest powers, and complete outfit for dissecting and mounting.

11. A complete set of Electrical Apparatus, comprising three induction coils—the largest giving a spark of twenty inches—also a full set of batteries, Geisler's tubes, Aurora tubes, etc.

All of the foregoing apparatus was bought from J. H. Steward, London, Optician to the Government, and imported free of duty for educational purposes.

12. A complete Physical Cabinet, bought from the old and reliable firm of E. J. Ritchie & Sons, Boston, Mass. The set embraces all that can be desired for illustrating lectures on any part of physics.

13. An entire outfit for Chemistry, all the chemical glass ware and apparatus of the latest and the most improved form, besides a full set of chemicals.

14. A complete Photographic outfit.

15. A New Building, containing the chemical laboratory, with its furnaces and apparatus, having a complete outfit for each student; the astronomical department, the photographic gallery and the physical workshop.

16. The best of the most recent works on Science, especially Chemistry.

17. Many very valuable specimens of Gold and Silver Ore.

It is to be hoped that the people of Omaha will appreciate this great kindness and liberality and profit by it, giving to their sons sufficient time to be thoroughly educated.
